CMP officials to face angry Andover residents Tuesday

Central Maine Power officials will hold a public meeting in Andover next Tuesday, at 7 p.m., in the town hall, to discuss the proposed 200' corridor for a high-voltage powerline to pass through Andover and other western Maine communities.

While the company officials want to garner support from residents to allow surveys on local property, organizers of the Committee to Stop Central Maine Power say they will present the company with hundreds of angry letters from residents who are unwilling to aid the company in any way.

In addition to the letter-writing campaign aimed at CMP, Andover residents are also writing to state officials. The Public Utilities Commission, the Department of Environmental Protection and the state Legislature all have to OK the utility company's plan to construct the 96-mile high-voltage powerline and import the Hyattsville power. The federal government also must give its approval for the importation of the power.

Speaking to the Western Maine Industrial Management Club Monday night, CMP's director of special projects, Lawrence Perkins, said he expects the permitting process will be completed by November 1989. He said the company expects to be importing the Quebec-Hydro power by 1992.

Mr. Perkins spoke at the club's monthly meeting, at the Fall Line Restaurant at Sunday River Ski Resort. He told the

Grand Jury indicts Al Saunders for murder

The Grand Jury, sitting in South Paris, handed up an indictment yesterday (Tuesday) against Al Saunders, of Bethel.

The Grand Jury indicted Mr. Saunders for the murder of his wife JoAnn. The indictment states that Al Saunders, on or about February 23, 1981, did intentionally and knowingly cause the death of JoAnn Saunders.

He will be arraigned tomorrow (Thursday) in superior court, in South Paris, at 8:30 a.m. He is expected to stand innocent to the charge, as he did at a preliminary hearing in Rumford district court Aug. 27. Bail was denied at that time, and he has been kept at the county jail.

The remains of JoAnn Saunders were found Aug. 23 beneath a concrete slab in the basement of the first Hill Road home the Saunders had lived in. The skeleton remains were clothed in a bathrobe and wrapped in a blanket. Medical examiners told state police it appeared that the face of the deceased was struck with a blunt object. It also appeared that there was a shotgun wound to the front of the trunk of the body. Positive identification of the remains was made through dental records, according to the state police.

'Backstage' gets permit

At their regular meeting Monday night, the Bethel selectmen approved a sewer connection permit for the Backstage Restaurant and Lounge project on Summer Street and further discussed filling the positions of police chief and public works foreman.

Chuck O'Connell, a partner in the restaurant project, agreed, at the selectmen's request, to open an $800 escrow account to effect any possible cost to the town should the project's contractors fail to restore the roadway to town standards.

The sewer line will be made on Mechanic Street. The account is to be held for two years, but the selectmen offered a "gentlemen's agreement" that they would consider returning all or part holders showed a 47 percent increase over the previous season's best, with skier-related revenues up a robust 30 percent. The company saw a healthy 115 percent increase in ski related pre-tax profits. Capitalizing on the resort's sound financial base, real estate ventures were up, translating into a 297 percent increase in sales.

Sunday River has built more lifts, cut more trails, developed more ski facilities and sold more trailside condominiums in the last two years than any other ski resort in the northeast.

Sunday River Ski Resort President Leslie B. O'Brien attributes the company's success to Sunday River's past, present and future commitments to providing skiers with quality snow and consistent surface conditions.

Sunday River posted Maine's largest ski season, opening Nov. 29, 1986, and closing April 20, 1987, a total of 160 days

An idea whose time has come

With little preparation or organizing, the Friends of the Androscoggin—the newly formed group seeking to improve the quality of and access to the Androscoggin River—turned out 37 boats and nearly 70 boaters Saturday for the first annual Fall Foliage Flotilla.

The organizers were delighted with the turnout. One woman said she had never been on the river during all the years she has lived right alongside it. It indicates that there is a large reservoir of support for what the Friends are aiming to do.

The river is truly one of the area's best-kept secrets—unused except by a small number of canoeists and fishermen. Its increased use depends on improving the quality of the water—which depends on forcing the paper mills to further clean up their act—and improving the access to that water. The Friends now know they have the backing of the local populace in their efforts to achieve these goals. bfw

Be sure to buckle them up

Making sure that children wear seat belts when riding in cars or trucks is an act of love. As of last Tuesday, with legislation passed during the first regular session of the 133th Legislature taking effect, it is also the law.

Automobile accidents exact a terrible toll in death and injury among young people every year. Study after study has documented that wearing a seat belt can substantially reduce the risk. Adults, as well as children, should make it a habit to buckle up every time they enter a vehicle.

This new law requires all children between the ages of 4 and 12 be buckled up while riding in motor vehicles. wes

A note from the publisher

(Continued from Page One.) In truth, there was no news story that could not be printed—this week. And that is thanks to the U.S. Constitution and the diligence of Americans in defending that Constitution, whose 200th birthday we are celebrating this year.

If you lived in Poland, for example, or the U.S.S.R., there would be stories every week that could not be printed—news that the government did not want the people to know about.

The same is true, on occasion, even in such countries as England, where news that the government deems possibly harmful to national security can be suppressed.

In South Korea, where reporters and editors face beatings by the Korean CIA, as well as censorship, papers will frequently have blank spaces in their pages where the censors have yanked out a story.

This is National Newspaper Week in our country, and it's a good time to remind ourselves how unique an institution is our free press.

It's ironic that the Founding Fathers who put together our Constitution did not think very highly of the press or of the citizenry's right to know. Any news of what was going on behind closed doors in Philadelphia in the summer of 1787 was suppressed. Even when the deliberations were completed and the document signed, one delegate suggested that the minutes be destroyed so that citizens would not be able to see how much disagreement there was before the final agreement. (His suggestion was not accepted.)

One can argue—as the delegates at the time did argue—that had the press been allowed to witness the proceedings and report on them, the public would have brought all sorts of pressures to bear on the delegates.

One can also argue that had the political horse-trading on such issues as condoning slavery been known to the populace, pressure would have been brought to keep such language out of the Constitution and the Civil War might have been avoided.

Politicians have always felt more comfortable working in private than in public. And who's to blame them? Having the populace peering over their shoulders slows down the business of government and makes it less efficient. However, it also keeps it from making mistakes.

Take, for example, the Bethel Board of Selectmen—a group of well-meaning and hard-working citizens. Over the past few months they worked diligently with an out-of-state manufacturer (GAMM) to find a new home for his factory. All the sessions leading to the final agreement were held in secret.

Thus, it came as a great surprise to a Bethel resident to learn—a few days before the final agreement was to be signed—that the board had offered to the manufacturer an airport lot on which this individual had an option. A collapse of the agreement was narrowly avoided when the manufacturer agreed to purchase a different airport lot.

According to the state's Freedom of Access Law, boards can hold secret sessions for discussing the sale of town property, but only if premature disclosures of the information would prejudice the competitive or bargaining position of the body or agency. In fact, in the above case, there was no question of the competitive position of the town being hurt, because the competitors—a private landholder and the Town of Rumford—were both aware what the Town of Bethel was offering GAMM.

As noted above, the only thing that the secret talks accomplished was to nearly derail the final agreement when the option-holder, by chance, discovered that his lot was to be sold by the town.

My purpose here is not to criticize the Bethel selectmen, but rather to try to sensitize local citizens and local boards to the notion that the widest dissemination of information should be the goal of a free society.

How often does it occur that a board will meet without giving adequate notice to the public? How often will a board meet in executive session, sending the public home, and then re-convene in open session after everyone has left, and take action on public matters? The answer to both questions is too often. And again, it's not so much a matter of boards wanting to pull the wool over people's eyes as much as it is a lack of sensitivity to the importance of paying strict attention to the dictates of the state's Freedom of Access Law.

From a newspaper's standpoint, that law is still not as good as it should be. Passed in 1959, it has been amended over the years but still keeps a lot of information out of public view. For example, when it comes to hiring a contractor to do work for a town or school district, the bidding process is completely open to public scrutiny. But when it comes to hiring an employee, the process is completely shielded from public view. Even after the position is filled, there is no way the public can learn who the other applicants for the job were or what their qualifications were. It's the same mentality that led Ollie North to turn on his shredder. This secrecy is currently being challenged in the courts by The Bangor News.

Thomas Jefferson once said if he had to choose between a society with a government and no newspapers, or a society with newspapers and no government, he would choose the latter. I wouldn't go quite that far. There'd be lots of information, but no direction. On the other hand, I wouldn't approve of the former either.

Having seen the way the press operates (or doesn't operate) in other parts of the world, I believe we have an excellent system in America. But it does need continual attention to remain both free and independent. And National Newspaper Week, Oct. 4-10, is a good time to be thankful for the First Amendment and subsequent court decisions and legislative actions that guarantee the press the freedom to do its job of keeping the public informed.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

I'd like to thank the Bethel Citizen for its "Note from the Publisher" printed in the Sept. 23 edition. We tend to be eager to judge other developing nations and forget how long it has taken us in our own "process" to develop a system of equality for all, minorities and women included.

When I visited Nicaragua last summer I saw a nation struggling with a revolutionary process as our founding fathers struggled 200 years ago. The first elections did not take place in our country until 12 years after the Revolution and then there was only one candidate and only 2 percent of the voting population voted. As the Citizen reported, it wasn't until 1792 that the Bill of Rights, the 10 amendments dealing with individual rights became a part of the Constitution. Women couldn't vote until 1919 and black rights weren't officially recognized until 1956 with Brown vs. the U.S.

The people of Nicaragua suffered for 50 years under the Somoza family's corrupt dictatorship. The revolution forced Does this mean that the U.S. press, since it is the freest in the world is also the best? Unfortunately such is not the case.

People reading a major daily newspaper in most countries of the world will be exposed to news of the world. In the U.S., newspapers tend to have the same narrow vision that infects our society at large: our interest in the world ends at our shores. Aside from wars, coups, and natural disasters, we find little news of the world in our daily papers—and not much news of other states, either.

It seems that American newspapers are following the lead of American television: that news must be entertaining. Keeping the American citizenry entertained does not do much to keep us informed. Such newspapers as the Christian Science Monitor and the Wall Street Journal prove that excellent newspapers do exist in our country. But not many publishers want to produce them, nor do many readers want to read them.

Anastasio Somoza to flee the country in 1979. Five years later free elections were held and two years after that a constitution was written which included rights for women. Today the Sandinista party is the ruling party, but there are six other parties in Nicaragua, three to the left of the Sandinista.

I visited a nation that is struggling to establish a system of government that will best support its people and its culture. Do we have the right to judge other cultures that are vastly different from our own? Isn't it time we respect the people of Central America by supporting their desire for peace through the Atlas Plan? Please consider this issue and urge our representatives in Washington to support the Central American Peace Plan as proposed by the Central American leaders. The best way to spread democracy is to set an example for others to follow.

Bethel Outing Club finalizes ski sale date

At a recent meeting, the Bethel Outing Club set the date for the 7th annual Ski Sale. This year's sale will be held Friday, Oct. 30, 8:30-9:30 p.m., and Saturday, Oct. 31, 9 a.m.-1 p.m. in the fieldhouse on the Gould Academy campus.

The highly popular consignment sale continues to enjoy tremendous growth and is expected to draw a substantial crowd seeking the many bargains that are available. Most major shops in Maine and New Hampshire continue to support the sale which is held as a public service and as the Bethel Outing Club's primary fundraiser.

The proceeds from the sale are used to promote and support youth Nordic ski development programs and skiers, and other community service projects in the greater Bethel area and the western Maine region.

The next Bethel Outing Club meeting and work party is scheduled for Wednesday, Oct. 14, 7 p.m., at Bob and Anita Remington's. Anyone who would like to volunteer help in the worthwhile project is encouraged to attend or call Don Arvinge evenings at 824-2714 or the Remingtons at 824-3369.

Grade 3 is welcoming a new student, Laura Strout. The Social Studies on communities is now comparing city and country communities. In math they are participating in a problem-solving enrichment program. Children work on their extra time and have a special Math Magic Chart to help them keep track of their progress. Those involved are: Mary Anne Cox, Katie Buehl, Emily Cole, Scott Cole, Josh Dunham, Tummy Farrar, Shannon Farris, Georgia Glasgow, Hope Lovejoy, and Karen Yates.

Grade 4 students are enjoying the story "Bridge to Terabithia," which is being read to them by their teacher. In science they are studying the basic elements, air and water. As always they are working on mastering their math facts and building up speed to do so. The goal is to complete 100 facts in three minutes. Liberty Woodworth has already mastered addition, subtraction and multiplication. Division will soon be conquered.

Grade 5 has only one chrysalis left, but is continuing the science unit on vertebrates and invertebrates. The next social studies project will be to draw pictures to illustrate the answers to the

By MARTA CLEMENTS

I'll begin with a reminder that Friday, Oct. 9, will be a teacher workshop day and Monday, Oct. 12, is Columbus Day. There will be no school on either day.

A featured speaker at the professional development workshop will be Dr. Claire Niessenbaum, who will deliver a message on mainstreaming LD children into the regular classroom. There will also be a variety of workshops appropriate to the needs of all grade level teachers. Grade level meetings are scheduled, which will give teachers the opportunity to meet and discuss issues that affect their particular grade.

News from each class this week includes the Kindergarten welcoming a new student, Lindsey Moody. Grade 1 is enjoying help from volunteers. Mrs. Eileen Mowatt is helping with reading on Wednesdays and Mrs. Debbie Herrick is assisting with an art class on Thursdays.

Grade 2 is studying how animals get ready for winter. The class will be taking a nature hike to try to find some of these hiding places. Also in Grade 2, several students have added the independent math program IMS to their schedules. Kim Kangus, Henry Bindbeutel, Charlie Baker, Marc Cole, and Karen DePaula.

Grade 3 is welcoming a new student, Laura Strout. The Social Studies on communities is now comparing city and country communities. In math they are participating in a problem-solving enrichment program. Children work on their extra time and have a special Math Magic Chart to help them keep track of their progress. chapter questions instead of writing them out in complete sentences. The story Grade 5 is now listening to is "The Rats of Nimh."

Andrew Leach has blackboard duty this week. He not only has to wash the chalkboard once, but also has the responsibility to decorate one board. A very nice Halloween picture is taking shape!

Grade 6 is studying weather in science class. Bulletin boards are being prepared by students to show what they are learning about weather and about their social studies unit on early peoples in the Americas.

The Chapter One reading teacher now has a computer and students are writing stories and playing reading games to spark their interest and learning in the area of reading.

Mrs. Merrill's artist of the week is Joseph Webb.

Notes from the Woodstock Historical Society

Here is a scene from a 19th century novel—

"A scene of the post-race steps built of clouds and smoke who wished to do so to mount the bank. Within was a paddock in an uncultivated state. The heath and fern had not been cut in and were overgrown. The old superannuated house, garden and outbuildings backed by a clump of trees." Thomas Hardy

At the next Society meeting Wayne Howe will present program on Alaska.

Following are the committees for the Society for this year.

Publicity: Larry Billings; Finance: Alice Hoyt, Ruth Cox, Kay McAllister, Joyce Hoyt, Mystery Package, Ruth Cox; Refreshments: Mary Billings, and Esther Davis; Building Committee: Ray Burnham, Earl Noyes, Roland Lord; Grounds: Ken Hoyt, Research Committee: Ruby Emery, Eva Twitchell, Mansfield Packard, and Steve Chase.

The program will be arranged on a monthly basis by various families in the Society.

Due plan to come to the Society's meetings the second Saturday of each month at 7 p.m. The Society is a place where "The Past is Always Present." We hope you will support this group. It is working for the good of the community and the area, and its projects are designed to benefit all.

group of industrial managers that the importation of the Canadian power, at a levelized price of 9½ cents per kilowatt hour over the 25-year term of the contract, would guarantee sufficient power for Maine industry into the next century.

Mr. Perkins said CMP could import as much as 1,000 megawatts of Hydro-Quebec power, according to the terms of the contract, although no more than 700 megawatts would be needed in Maine. (In comparison, Maine Yankee, the largest single source of power in the state, produces a maximum of 850 megawatts.)

Mr. Perkins admitted that importing power had certain drawbacks. For one, it would not create new jobs the way locally produced power would. For another, it would not add to local and state tax coffers the way locally produced power would. (The State Planning Office, in a report on the Hydro-Quebec import proposal, took note of the fact that locally produced power would mean powerplants in Maine, which would mean more jobs and more taxes paid. The report suggested that the energy shortfall envisioned by CMP by the end of the century could be made up through conservation, biomass generating plants, and renovation of an older oil-fired plant.)

Mr. Perkins also said there would be drawbacks from the powerline itself. "There will be an impact on property values in the short term," he said. He added that property values near powerlines tend to recover once people become used to the presence of the powerline.

CMP officials have calculated the shortfall of available energy in Maine at 600 megawatts by the year 2000. Mr. Perkins explained the reason the com-

Informational evening for seniors/parents tonight at Telstar

Daniel Hart, Telstar Regional High School guidance counselor has worked diligently to prepare an informational evening for seniors and their parents this Wednesday evening, Oct. 7.

Beginning at 7 p.m. in the Telstar library, five panelists representing the following careers, will speak with class of 1988 members and their families:

- Director of Admissions, University of Maine, Farmington.
- U.S. Air Force Recruiting Officer, Rumford.
- Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce Executive Director.

- Stephens Memorial Hospital Human/Community Resource Director.
- Dean of Students, New Hampshire Vocational Technical College, Berlin.

Mr. Hart will also present an overview of guidance and high school services for seniors during the 1987-88 school year. Inquiries about the Oct. 7 guidance program can be made at 824-2133.

pany will import up to 1,000 megawatts is because Hydro-Quebec would not sell a smaller amount. He said whatever excess is imported will be sold to other utilities in New England.

To check the potential for locally produced power, CMP called for bids from potential producers willing to sell power to the utility. The company, in June, received offers for over 1,400 megawatts of power (compared to the 1,000 the company is prepared to purchase from Canada). Mr. Perkins said these offers are being evaluated and the company will not make any decision on the offers until after the first of the year.

To back-up Sunday River's continuing emphasis on producing quality snow, a $1 million investment as part of this summer's $5.5 million on-mountain capital expansion will focus on snowmaking. Maine and New Hampshire's largest snowmaking system has been expanded by increasing air compression, water pumping and the supply of water. Snowmaking coverage has been added to two new advanced trails on Barker Mtn. and three new trails at Sunday River's sixth mountain area.

The company expects to continue its consistent growth pattern this season. Two new quad chairlifts, including Maine and New Hampshire's first high-speed detachable quad chairlift—Sunday River Express—will maintain the resort's leadership position with respect to uphill lift capacity.

Sunday River's $16 million, 192 unit condominium development will increase the on-mountain bed base to 3,300. A $1.8 million wastewater treatment facility will serve the new Brookside Condominiums as well as future development at the resort.

Since the current expansion program began under president Otten's leadership in 1983, two quad chairlifts, four triple chairlifts, and one double chairlift have been erected; 225 acres of snowmaking installed; 34 trails cut; six grooming vehicles added to the fleet; Barker, South Ridge and White Cap base facilities expanded and renovated; and over 600 on-slope condominiums constructed for a total investment in excess of $60 million. Total year-round employment has risen from seven in 1981, to 125 in 1987. Including seasonal help, the annual payroll has risen to exceed $2.6 million.

According to Town Manager Rodney Lynch, some form of escrow account or performance bond has become standard practice in recent sewer and water lines. "The town is tired of being stuck with streets we have to go in and fix ourselves," he said.

The selectmen also reviewed the schedules for the Broad Street sewer project and the property revaluation program, again discussed specifications for the Cole Block building renovations, and made the following appointments: Robert Lowe and Chuck O'Connell to the Airport Advisory Committee, and Betsy Cooper to the Recreation Committee. Alberta Merrill and Jane Rolfe were reappointed to three-year terms on the Recreation Committee.

The meeting concluded with secret sessions on the hiring of a new police chief and public works foreman. It is understood that negotiations are in progress for hiring one of the five candidates interviewed for the position of police chief.

Mrs. Betty Harris of Charleston, W.Va., is visiting her granddaughter, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Easter and daughter, Rachel, a few weeks.

A very exciting soccer game between Andover Elementary School pupils in grades 4-5 against Rumford school from the same grades, Rumford team won. But Andover team gave them a good work out anyway.

Mrs. Maurice Palmer, Robin Palmer, Joy Porter and Mrs. Barbara Simmons were in Augusta on Sunday to attend the Conway Twitty and Loretta Lynn concert. Miss Lynn was sick so she didn't appear.

Sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jaros and family in the loss of her mother, Mrs. Annie Durland.

Pastor and Mrs. Omer Roberts of Richmond, Va., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Richardson a few days.

Pastor Omer Roberts of Richmond,

Va., was guest speaker at the First Congregational Church on Sunday, Sept. 27. His sermon topic was "Who Is Your God?" He and his wife furnished special music. Greeters were Ann Bishop and family. Rev. Churchill gives many thanks to all who have helped her during her illness. Deacon on call was Kathy Williamson.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred McArthur of St. Louis, Mo., spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jaros, called here by the death of her grandmother, Mrs. Annie Durland. Also visiting the Jaros family were her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dwyer, of Tenafly, N.J.

Miss Karen Swan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Swan, has returned after spending several weeks in California. The fifth grade of Andover Elementary took a field trip to the top of White Cap Mountain on Friday, Oct. 2. What a lovely day, clear and bright.

An exhibition of student art work will be on display at the Bethel Library for the month of October. The following students participated: Brooke Cramton, Erica Carson, Sarah Cohen, Phoebe Hausman-Rogers, Amy Todd, Amos Fox, Cindy Wheeler, Gabe Perkins, Per Sandstrom, Nathan Whitworth, Mark Tripp, Caitlin Kavanagh, Amanda Gilbert, Nathaniel Thibodeau, Mary Harrington, Amy Bennett, and Heather Best. The work was produced during a summer art program offered by Arla Patch, a teacher in the Creative and Talented Program.

Uljas Murphy and Amber Brooke took Monarch Caterpillars into their 2nd grade classroom. They caterpillars have each turned into a chrysalis. Mrs. Coolidge and her students are patiently waiting for the butterflies to hatch.

Mrs. Wheeler's fifth graders have each "adopted" a tree on the CPS playground. They'll be observing their trees on a regular basis, noting changes, scientific observations, and taking notes throughout the year.

In celebration of the 200th anniversary of our Constitution, Mrs. Cousins' 2nd graders came to an agreement after many small group discussions, as to which rules would make their classroom a good place to be in. The students all signed the agreement using a real feather pen and real ink. They celebrated their Classroom Constitution and the 200th birthday of our country's Constitution with a party.

Miss Merrill's 3rd graders voted on the individual ideas of small groups of students to form their Classroom Constitution. Their constitution, which now has 22 laws, was signed by each student and is now a permanent part of their room this year.

Mrs. Salway's kindergarten students ironed leaves and put them in their window.

Mrs. McCluskey's first graders are enjoying their new computer. They're finding computing is a fun way of learning!

Congratulations to the following CPS and EBS students who've completed the Bethel Library's Summer Reading Program. They all walked to the library and a celebration featuring cupcakes and the sending off of helium balloons. They encourage everyone to keep on reading! — Teri Chabourne, Becca Fraser, Karen Wheeler, Brooke Cramton, Kelly Paradis, Cindy Wheeler, Amanda Sysko, Kate Nickerson, Grayson Wakefield, Marcy LaVallee, Katie Chapman, Matthew Lewis, Clinton Wakefield, Anneliese Bass, Darell Howard, Jessie Wight, Amy Hale, Jason Fraser, Alex Gillies, Jodi Barnes, Hana Seames, Brett Harvey, Julie Ludlam, Leah Bonnama, Melinda Hale, Gabriel Perkins.

On Tuesday, Miss Merrill's and Mrs. Wight's 3rd grade class hiked up Table Rock in Grafton Notch. They were accompanied by Conservation Officer Mark Wight and several chaperones. Students have been studying the Appalachian Trail and found the trip exciting and educational as it brought to life the realization of actually being on the trail they'd detected on their maps as going from Georgia to Maine. Hikers enjoyed a picnic and sightseeing at Screw Auger Falls before returning to their classrooms. The day's perfect weather helped make the trip enjoyable to the fullest extent.

LEONARD HOY'S 4th GRADE from Crescent Park School visited the Bethel Library last week. They learned how to use the card catalogue, checked out books, and those who wanted library cards received them. Above, Angela Levesque, Mr. Hoy and Scott Tripp look up authors in the card catalogue. This morning, fog and mist alternate with rain. Some think of fall with sobriety references to melancholy days induce when a day dawns like this one, until the mists burn off and reveal to us the ridge dressed in red and gold.

Last night the first frost came here (Sept. 25) where my lawn grasses and flowers whispered their farewell to summer.

At this moment of writing I have just returned from a walk. The autumn air was clearer and the winds brisker and colder. The afternoon shadows stretched farther to reach for the sun. Leaves drifted lazily down like colorful snowflakes. The highway stretched against the hills to gather the warmth of the sun.

Tall pines were at work sweeping clouds from the sky. I tiptoed across the fallen needles, a brown forest floor; for I was an insignificant trespasser beneath these giants of time.

This summer past, and all the other summers I visualized clearly, nostalgically from up the hill and down the valley.

So the chill of this early day in autumn I built a fire in the stove. It filled the rooms of my log cabin with coziness snap and crackle of burning sticks, and the fragrance of woodsmoke, while outside the vapor trails from the chimney drifted away up the valley, taking my many memories with it.

On Sept. 27, I attended, with my brother, Fred, and his wife, Rena, a cousins party at the Day Homestead in Woodstock. My mother was from a family of 11 children, all girls but two. When they married, their last names of course changed. Sometime along the way they were remembered by this saying: "Pease and Beans, put them in a Tubby stir them with a Cobble and Lapham all Day. All last names were included except my mother's, who was not yet married and one who never married. So those who met were descendants of this family of sisters. There were 13 of us today: Mabel Nichols, Florida; Ernest Curtis, Poland; Fred, Rena Curtis and Colista Curtis Morgan, Greenwood; Richard, Clara, Erna Pease, Leeds; Ruby Emery, Jim and Mary Cobb, Bryant Pond; Carl and Lettie Day Brooks, West Paris.

Much time was spent after a nice lunch, reminiscing and looking at pictures of the families. Mabel came a long distance and told us about when her Grandfather and Grandmother Tubbs moved to Florida so many years ago. There were few schools near by and few teachers but Mabel's aunt was a teacher so found it easy to get work. The northern people were unwelcome there and times were hard.

Sally and Mary Holt, Slandish, visited me on Saturday. Others calling this week were Fred, Rena, Dot Curtis, Zilpha DiRenzo, local; John Curtis, Olney, Mont.

I was at the Day Homestead on Wednesday, Sept. 23, to attend a Christmas tree and party. Yes, it was September, for one of our Tired Teachers leaves soon for Florida for the winter. We had an exchange of gifts and much fun. Attending were Doris Hayes and her two sisters, Verna Libby and Lenora Waterhouse.

There will be a teachers' workshop on Oct. 8 and 9 with no school scheduled. They also have Columbus Day off so they will have a five day holiday.

Sunday School for the Locke Mills Union Church began this week with a special service during the church hour followed by a brunch. My apologies that I did not get the notice in last week's paper as I expected to do. It was a case of having scheduled too many things to do in too short a space of time, coupled with a bad memory. I hope it did not inconvenience anyone.

DR. PIXIE WILLIAMS, a local physician, spoke with Telstar freshmen last week at the F.A.C.T. workshop held at the Bethel Inn Conference Center. McAuliffe observatory cleared at Telstar

As the sun touched the trees and upper playing fields at Telstar on Saturday, Sept. 26, the sound of chainsaws could be heard in the crisp morning air. Jeremiah Bolen, Eagle Scout candidate, and Matthew Arsenault, Star Scout candidate, both from Boy Scout Troop #565 in Bethel, were busy clearing a new outdoor observatory area.

Last spring, Jeremiah contacted Dewaine Craig, SAD #44 superintendent of schools and assistant scoutmaster of Troop #565, concerning his need for an Eagle Scout service project. During the discussion of possible projects, Mr. Craig mentioned the development of a nature trail at the Telstar site and stated that an outdoor observatory at the site might offer long-range benefits to the school and students. Jeremiah then decided to make the observatory his Eagle Scout service project.

Following this discussion, the Telstar Educators Association offered Jeremiah $100 toward the purchase of wood for benches to be made for the observatory.

Following the Saturday work session, Jeremiah stated that the real design work would begin in earnest. Up to this point in time, his work had been spent marking the site for clearing. With the clearing completed, the area now needs to be leveled and final design plans completed. The observatory (amphitheater) is surrounded on three sides by thick tree growth and is open to the south for a panoramic view of the area. The site should be an excellent day and night observatory within walking distance of

Celebrate bicentennial of Constitution

September of 1987 was the month during which many Americans celebrated the Bicentennial of the United States Constitution, and Telstar Regional High School was no exception. From Sept. 25 to Oct. 2, an exhibit entitled "The Blessings of Liberty" was on display in the library. Consisting of 12 posters, each mounted on a kiosk, the display highlighted interesting and informative portions of the history of the Constitution.

On Sept. 30, Gordon M. Gillies, attorney, presented an information lecture to the students currently enrolled in the law classes of Mr. McCann. The lecture topics included Civil Law, Separation of Powers, and Bankruptcy. His talk was followed by a question and answer period with students concerned about issues ranging from legal ethics to interest rates. The classes hope that Mr. Gillies will be able to return later in the year for a similar presentation on Criminal Law.

Both events were made possible by the Maine State Bar Association.

I am writing my column for the paper early this week as I am going to be gone for a few weeks at the New England Rehabilitation Hospital in Portland. Went for an evaluation last week and they called and want me there to see if they can help where the pain is concerned. I am ready to go and hope for some help from the program they present. Thankfully, Medicare and Medicaid have agreed to help where it is concerned and that is something to be very grateful for. If I have the time and can write so one can read it, I will try to write a little each week but am not promising to do so. If you don't see my writing in the paper, you will know it is because I can't get anything written.

It has been a busy week as usual and old Jack Frost finally hit us and we have had to gather in some of our stuff. We were glad to have some folks come and get the cukes before the frost hit. I had rather see someone have them than have them go to waste. Russell has cut and peeled a lot of squash to freeze and still have some more to do. Cauliflower is coming good and the frost hasn't hurt them so but what we think they will head and be ready to freeze. Russell tried something else this year just for the fun of it and we got results yesterday. Monday evening, he sent for some sweet potato plants and set them out and wondered if they would produce anything. Sure enough, there were some potatoes there, not too many and they were deeper in the ground than white potatoes usually grow but grow they had. It was rather interesting to see.

I did something else different the other day, I decided that I would make some tomato soup this year with some of the tomatoes as they ripened. It was rather good but not as thick as what you get in a can. Will use a little more flour to thicken it next time around. At least, it gives us something different to use.

We have been to see doctors as usual and one day last week we had several visitors. Marion York and Bertha Kilgore of Norway came up and Marion took home some of my African Violets. Hope she has good luck with them. They are doing so well and are young plants just blossoming.

She had just left when the lady came for the cukes and she had just left when my daughter came for my granddaughters who had spent the night and day with me. Before they all arrived, Ivy Bartlett came to visit and had gone up to visit Peggy when Marion came. It was nice to have so many visitors, whatever the reason for coming.

Sunday was such a perfect day that we decided to call it a day of having fun so left for a drive in the mountains. What a beautiful day for a drive. Mount Washington was white with snow and the foliage was beautiful on the mountain sides. Russell and Peggy had never been to Story Land so decided they couldn't see it any younger so went to have fun like the children and everyone else. Even though it was a rough time for me to walk so far, we had fun and they had a chance to see what it is all about. It has changed so much since I was there the last time. So much has been added and all to attract the folks to bring children and have a good day. One price and all the rides are free so it is a good time for all. We had gone by way of Fryeburg and North Conway where we found bumper to bumper traffic for a while but when we got ready to come home we went up toward Gorham and what lovely sights to behold. Mother Nature was at her best and with the white on top of the big mountain, the views were spectacular. I was two thirds asleep part of the way home but had enjoyed the day just the same.

Had done quite a lot yesterday, Monday, when I got the call that they wanted me at the hospital this week to stay for a month for the chronic pain program. I could go either today or tomorrow and decided I needed the time to get things together so will be going on Wednesday. That is why I am writing this tonight. We have been to the city today to give Peggy and Russell the chance to go to the eye doctors and I visited with my daughter and girls. We all had lunch with them before the appointments. I shall miss seeing them for a while but hope the program proves to be most helpful.

I told Russell that I hated to leave them with so many things needing to be taken care of but no time is good for going away, or so it seems so have to when called.

By being at the hospital, I shall miss a lot of the lovely colors as there isn't so much in the city but hope it will be worth it. I do love this time of year even though I dread what comes next. Guess we all know what that is and have to get ready for it.

As I said earlier, I will try to keep in touch and hope everyone has a good month of October.

Apple users to meet

The Bethel Area Apple Users Group will meet for an organizational meeting on Wednesday, Oct. 7, at 7 p.m. at Telstar Regional High School in Room 201.

The Apple Users group has met monthly during the school year for the past two years, under the sponsorship of SAD #44 Adult and Community Education, to allow those interested in the use of personal computers to meet and share.

The Wednesday meeting is open to teens and adults who are interested. Those attending are asked to bring ideas for future programs, and to bring a favorite program or accessory to demonstrate.

The SMAUG public domain library will be available for copying, and those who are interested in obtaining free software for Apple II, IIe, and IIc computers should bring blank disks.

Apple Users dues are $1 per month. Anyone unable to attend the meeting but who would like to receive notices of future events should call the Adult Education office, 824-2780.

Adult and Community Education Director Cathy Newell has announced that, because of the growing number of Macintosh users in the area, the Adult Education program will try and offer an occasional program specifically for Mac users.

Fundraising continues for WES playground

Last year, with the help of many people, $1,700 was raised toward the Woodstock School Playground Fund. The goal is $4,000 and thanks to friends, the school is almost halfway there.

Starting last month, Woodstock School Playground Fund Booster tickets are again being sold. Tickets are available at Tom's Custom Meals or from Jeanne Win, Sue Rosenberg, David Murphy, Elton Cole and Gayle Russell.

For a tax-deductible donation of $20 (or $2 for 10 weeks), ticket holders are eligible for 10 weekly drawings of two $25 prizes. Other prizes of $300, $100, $50 and $25 will be drawn at the end of 10 weeks.

With luck, the WS Playground Fund will have reached its $4,000 goal by Christmas, 1987, according to the organizers. With $4,000, they can apply for a State Matching Grant of $4,000 to further enhance the playground.

The monthly supper at the Community Hall on Sept. 26 was a sellout and no one went home hungry. We had a wood fire and it was warm and cozy. Several new people and they enjoyed it all. The shingling is done and work has been done on the deed to the lot across the road. Now the Community Club will be incorporated, which should have been done in 1947 when the mortgage was burned. I guess it takes time for everything.

Several from our hamlet attended the party at the West Paris Legion Hall, Sept. 26, honoring Robert and Dorothy Chamberlain on their 50th wedding anniversary. They were former residents in our neck of the woods. It was a bit early as they will leave soon for their winter home in Texas.

Arnold Coffin had more surgery at Stephens Memorial Hospital Oct. 1, but hopes to be back home soon. He likes to be home.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Vatcher were at Mexico, Thursday, on business. They went through the green woods and the foliage was beautiful. This weekend should be the peak.

The Community Club meeting was held at the home of Joe and Eveline Vatcher Sept. 30 one week ahead of time so to decide on the last supper date. It will be Oct. 24 at 5 p.m. and will be home-made mashed potatoes, frozen peas, fruit salad and hot dishes, hot rolls, ginger bread and whipped cream. All bills were voted to be paid and Joseph Vatcher and Joseph Kalinowski were delegated to take care of the incorporation business. Wade Rainey will also help on the lines etc. A thank-you card was signed by members present to be sent to H. Warren Abbott for the gift of land across the road from the hall. We were glad to have Mr. and Mrs. Roland Curtis join our meeting. He and his parents used to live next door to the Community Club until their house burned. We all had a nice evening.

Can you hear the rabbits tumbling over each other to get out of the way of Joe Vatcher and his dogs?

There will be a benefit dance for Dot Canwell Saturday evening from 8-12 at the West Paris Grange Hall, with music by Richard Felt and company.

Bethel Historical Society receives Rowe Award

The Bethel Historical Society received the prestigious Harry W. Rowe Award of the Maine League of Historical Societies and Museums at its October monthly meeting. Presented on behalf of the League by its vice president, Dr. Robert M. York, who also serves as state historian and chairman of the League's Awards Committee, the Rowe Award honors the Society for "an outstanding contribution to state and local history."

The award is named in honor of former Bates College Dean Harry W. Rowe, who was long active in local and state local history causes. The Maine League of Historical Societies and Museums, founded in 1960, has over 200 museums and historical agencies within its membership.

In his presentation remarks to the Society, Dr. York made the following observations: In your 21 years, you have come a long, long way. Your membership of almost 800 makes you one of the largest historical societies in the state. You are also one of a very small select group where good things are happening all the time. Your endowment is the envy of other societies. Your record in membership, marking historic sites, offering courses in history, genealogy and crafts, your efforts on behalf of the Broad Street Historical District, your sponsorship of a host of very successful special events such as Indian Raid '81, your publications record from a cookbook to the reprinting and making additions to Lapham's History of Bethel and Ben's East Bethel Road and now Randy Bennett's most impressive Oxford County, Maine: A Guide to Its Historic Architecture are truly outstanding. Your quarterly The Bethel Courier is a model publication. You have been blessed with strong leaders and a strong supportive membership. More than that, you recruited an outstanding director whose dedication to Bethel and to state and to local history is phenomenal.

The award was made to President Marvin Ouwinga, who accepted on behalf of the Society.

Founded in 1966, the Society is dedicated to preserving and interpreting the local past. During its two decades of existence, it has established a period house museum, built a regional research collection which attracts researchers from throughout the United States, conducted a wide range of educational programs for children and adults, and set up an extensive publications program. It was also honored by the American Association for State and Local History in 1975 "for an effective program of preservation, publications, and education."

Panel to present Telstar special education program at symposium

Ted Davis, principal; Miss Ann Holt, special education consulting teacher; Mrs. Helen Berry, English instructor; Dave Tripp, industrial arts instructor; Mrs. Pauline Applin, math instructor; and Miss Susie Stephenson, resource room instructor will serve on a panel at the Third Northeast International Symposium on Exceptional Children and Youth to discuss the successful practices in the resource room program at Telstar Regional High School.

The program which is designed to serve handicapped students has been successful in the mainstreaming of these students at the secondary level. The panel will discuss how the resource room students are an integral part of the total Telstar program and the how the Telstar faculty has demonstrated the needed support that is necessary for this success.

From the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce

As some of you know, we just returned from the Eastern States Exposition, in Springfield, Mass., New England's largest agricultural fair. We were an exhibitor in the Maine building. Nearly a million people went through the fair in 12 days, despite a few days of rainy weather.

I personally was there on Saturday, Sept. 26, which was "Maine Day," and one would not believe the absolute constant wall of people who went past our table. Needless to say, it is great exposure for our area of the state. We had three videos that we showed: one on the Bethel area lumber operations (many folks stopped to watch it) and two ski videos—one from Sunday River and one from Mt. Abram.

It is a big project for a chamber our size to undertake, but the costs to house and feed volunteers were well covered by the sale of the Maine Woodsman's Weathersticks. As a matter of fact, it turned out to be a fundraiser for us.

Many thanks to the following volunteers: Mac and Bunny MacMunn, Ed Hitchcock and Christopher Thacher, Rick and Ellen Whitney, Ernestine and Bill Riley, Fran and Kathleen Szostek, Ernest and Pearl Phillips, Rebecca Kendall and Colleen Boyd, Doug Zinchuk, Barb and Mike Brown.

We held our first Breakfast Issues meeting at Martha's Restaurant on Oct. 1, with nearly 30 area business people in attendance. Charles Mercer, from the Finance Authority of Maine, was guest speaker. The topic was "How to Obtain Business Capital" and was very informative. Charles hopes to organize a one-day conference here in Bethel next year to actually get folks together who are interested in applying for funds at some time—and also for folks who want to familiarize themselves with how to fill out the forms. More on that later. Thanks so much to Joe Gaidis from Martha's for a delicious breakfast.

By the way, congratulations to Joe and Cathy Gaidis on the birth of a daughter! We'd like to have more breakfast meetings, if you have a suggestion on a topic, please call the office.

A Chamber benefit: Available to member businesses only, a $300 midweek (including vacation midweeks) season pass good at either Sunday River or Mt. Abram. The pass is transferable within the company but a list of those authorized to use the pass must be submitted when purchasing it. Contact Wende Gray, at 824-2187, for more information.

Shop Local Campaign: We are once again organizing a campaign to run in The Bethel Citizen for 12 weeks. So far 12 businesses have agreed to be a part of it. If your business is interested please give us a call soon!

Hot off the press: Adult Ed is sponsoring small business workshops (which were heavily requested on the training needs survey that went out this summer). There will be three workshops run by Dodd-Blair Associates, of Farmington, and they'll be held at The Bethel Inn on the following dates: Nov. 2, Marketing; Nov. 16, Time and Stress Management; Dec. 9, Personnel Management.

The workshops will be held from 9 to 4, including lunch breaks. The cost is $25 per person for individual workshops, $45 for all three, and $40 if registered by Oct. 16. Adult Ed will be mailing out a brochure this week with full registration information.

The Chamber would like to encourage you to attend the Future Conference to be held Oct. 30 at The Bethel Inn Conference Center. If you are concerned with the changes that have occurred in this area and would like to join forces with other concerned citizens please consider going. A well-known NTL consultant, Eva Schindler-Raimann, will be the facilitator. For more information, call Cathy Newell at the Adult Ed office, 824-2780.

Our fundraising committee will be having a food sale at the Blue Mountain Arts and Crafts Festival, Oct. 10 and 11, at Sunday River Ski Resort. If you would like to help, please contact Chairwoman Irene Mills, at 665-2333.

I'd like to thank everyone for their excellent response to the Rte. 26 corridor survey mailed out last month. I'll reveal the results either in The Citizen or the next newsletter.

We hope you are enjoying the Member Profile that has been in The Citizen each week. Eventually, every chamber member will be highlighted, thanks to great work done by the Community Relations Committee.

Most regrettably, the board voted at the last meeting to cease activity with Blue Cross/Blue Shield due to lack of interest. The United Chambers Insurance Plan is still available to all chamber members—if you would like more information on that, please contact us.

Welcome to new member Sandra Gunther at Maine Mountain Realty. Best of luck to you, Sandra, for a most successful business venture.

It is time to start planning for the Christmas season. If you have any suggestions for activities you would like to see done or participate in please let us know.

THIS WEEK AT THE Moses Mason House

The annual "What's It" meeting was featured at the October monthly meeting of the Bethel Historical Society. More than a dozen items of an unusual nature were exhibited and discussed by those present. The head of the program committee John Bayerlein led this portion of the program. Following this, local historian Stuart F. Martin of Rumford Point, author of New Pennacook Folks, spoke on the topic "The Vanishing Towns and Villages of Oxford County." Mr. Martin cited several examples of towns and villages in Oxford County, which were once thriving agricultural and/or commercial centers. Today many of them are abandoned and in a number of cases overgrown by bushes and trees.

During the business portion of the meeting President Marvin Ouwinga announced that the next meeting would be held on Nov. 5 and feature a presentation on the history of Bethel's Railroad Street by Geraldine Howe. Anyone with photographs, anecdotes and/or artifacts relating to this important Bethel street was urged to call her at 824-3188 or the Society office (824-2908). Those present were reminded of the bus trip to York on Oct. 10 sponsored by SAD #44 Adult and Community Education in cooperation with the Society. Anyone interested in going was urged to call the Society office.

The gift of the month was announced as a collection of more than 50 books on railroads donated by life member and former Society president, E.M. Quinn. Many of these books were on display in the cases in the meeting room. Two White Mountain histories were announced as new additions offered for sale in the museum store: Kilbourne's Chronicles of the White Mountains and Willey's Incidents in White Mountain History. Life membership certificates were presented to Walter and Carolyn Hatch of Bethel. President Ouwinga accepted on behalf of the Society the Harry W. Rowe Award "for an outstanding contribution to state and local history" from Dr. Robert M. York, State Historian and chairman of the League's Awards Committee. Refreshments of fresh pumpkin pie and ice cream followed the program.

Recent new members of the Society are Donald V. Marrer of Fenfield, N.Y., and Dorothy West Bargar of Urisville, Ohio. New life members are Garrett and Melody Bonenna of Bethel. A contribution to the 1987 Endowment Campaign in memory of Carrie Wright has been received from Willard and Sylvia Wright of Newry.

On Sept. 29 the Society held its first educational activity for the new school year for the fifth grade at Crescent Park School. This activity included a trip to the Middle Intervale Meeting House, the town's oldest religious structure. Here archaeological historian Randall Bennett described the building's architecture and the building's use for both secular and religious purposes. Society Director

WILLARD WIGHT (left), of Newry, discusses a point with Stuart F. Martin, who spoke on Oxford County's vanishing towns and villages at the October meeting of the Bethel Historical Society.

Stanley R. Howe presented examples of genealogical and described its importance in local history. Mr. Bennett then described the role cemeteries played in the 19th century, being not only places of burial but also for family outings. He described the types of monuments found in cemeteries and what might be learned from visiting a graveyard. Students were then instructed under adult supervision in the art of gravestone rubbing. This activity is part of a monthly series of programs planned by the Society in cooperation with former fifth grade teacher Mary Newcomb.

Homecoming weekend was held Oct. 3 and 4 at the Dr. Moses Mason House. As usual the museum was enhanced by the presence of a variety of harvest decorations provided by several members. Guides for the weekend were Helen Marston, Judy Haskell, and Mildred Thomas. Much appreciation is expressed to everyone who made it such a success.

Public Issues Forum to focus on Bill of Rights

"The Bill of Rights-Protector of Individual Liberties" will be the topic of the first Public Issues Forum, co-sponsored by Gould Academy and SAD #44 Adult and Community Education, to be held on Thursday, Oct. 15 at 7 p.m. in Holden Lounge at Gould Academy.

Jack H. Simmons, of the Lewiston law firm of Berman, Simmons and Goldberg, will be the featured speaker at the evening program, which is open to the public at no charge.

Community members planning to attend are asked to pre-register by calling the SAD #44 Adult and Community Education office, 824-2780, so that sufficient seating space may be arranged.

The focus of the program will be on the Bill of Rights as an entity which protects basic individual freedoms. Simmons will briefly describe the philosophical basis by which the Constitution was formulated and the Bill of Rights added, then emphasize the individual rights guaranteed by the Constitution and the potential for conflict with the social needs of the body politic.

Mr. Simmons intends to concentrate on the First Amendment rights of freedom of speech, press and religion, and to a lesser extent on the Fourth, Fifth and Sixth Amendments, which are more applicable to criminal prosecutions.

Mr. Simmons is a 1961 graduate of Bates College and a 1964 graduate of the Boston University School of Law. He is an active trial lawyer in Maine and is the author of a number of articles on various aspects of trial practice. He has been a member of the Supreme Judicial Courts Advisory Committee on the Rules of Evidence and a member of the Maine State Criminal Law Revision Commission. Upton

By ARLINE BERNIER

My sympathy to the Rosenberg and Barnett families for the death of Annie Rosenberg, especially her sister, Viola Johnson. I knew Annie when she attended school in Upton where her warmth and friendliness made her liked by everyone. We met and visited now and then through the years and she never lost her warm personality but grew to be more like her mother about whom I never heard a bad word even in this small town.

The representatives from CMP held a meeting at the school house last Tuesday evening concerning the proposed high power line bringing power from Quebec Hydro into Maine. We had to leave early because of a very early next morning commitment.

Joseph Bergeron went into a Lewiston hospital Wednesday for a tonsillectomy. Hopefully this will put an end to the intermittent throat and ear problems he's suffered for years.

The Cub Scouts are taking popcorn orders and Joseph Bergeron sold several packages in Upton.

The foliage was a bit dull at first but brightened up and was truly spectacular perhaps because of several soaking rains. It reached the peak the last week of September and now the leaves are falling in ditches and yards.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan C. Hamilton, Twitchell Pond, Locke Mills, announce the engagement of their daughter, Kimberly Ann Hamilton of Richmond, Va., to Barry J. Bodwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Bodwell of Bethel.

Ms. Hamilton is a graduate of Gould Academy, and received her bachelor of science degree from the University of Maine, Orono, in 1987, in health sciences and physical education with honors. She is currently a member of the 1989 class of Occupational Therapy at the Medical College of Virginia, Richmond, Va., where she is serving as class president.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Tri-Town Rescue

My apologies to Tri-Town's Auxiliary for not getting a notice of last Monday's meeting into the paper. They will be holding a Food Sale at Trap Corner Store on Saturday, Oct. 10, from 9 a.m. to 12 noon. The Auxiliary has a lot of good food, including pies and cakes, breads, baked beans, and lots of other goodies.

Search and Rescue will be meeting on Thursday, Oct. 8, at 7 p.m. As always, new members will be welcomed.

Tri-Town board of directors will be meeting sometime during the week of Oct. 12. The exact date is still in question, but if you're interested in the meeting, give one of the board members a call.

Jane Chandler, chief of Tri-Town, was one of the speakers at Telstar's Freshman Awareness Workshop recently. Her topic was the health care professions.

Future dates to remember are: Stephens Memorial Ambulance Appreciation Night, Oct. 22; EOA Reconciliation Oct. 28; Tri-Town training Oct. 28.

THOUGHTS FROM THE Pastor's Study

The Bethel Area Clergy Association, with the help of pastors of surrounding churches, is endeavoring to bring frequently to you these meditations. Not based on any set theme, they will be individual for each pastor. It is hoped you will find in these words, comfort and help for your daily life.

Paul and Barnabas had just preached the good news about Jesus throughout Asia and had now returned to Antioch in Syria. The Bible tells us they gathered the church together there and reported all that God had done through them and how He had opened the door of faith to the Gentiles. While Paul and Barnabas were there some men came down from Judea to Antioch and were teaching the brothers: "Unless you are circumcised, according to the custom taught by Moses, you cannot be saved."

We can determine from Scripture that these men that came down from Judea were in fact Pharisees. They began teaching those already in Christ that they were not saved at all until they first went through the outward act of circumcision. We also see throughout Scripture these same Pharisees trying to trap Jesus by proving that He was not obeying the Law. They put more emphasis on the outside than on the inside. Our Lord said (Mt. 5:20), "Unless your righteousness surpasses that of the Pharisees and the teachers of the Law, you will certainly not enter the Kingdom of heaven." God clearly looks at our hearts. Is the Church today too concerned about non-essential issues that actually hinder people from entering into a relationship with Jesus?

The question was: "Are the Gentile believers to be required to keep the Jewish Law?" On the answer to this one question hung, to a great extent, the fate of the Church. If the answer was yes, Christianity would simply be another sect of Judaism. If the answer was no, then Christianity could go on to fulfill its divinely ordained mission of being for all people, regardless of prior religion, race, creed, or color.

The Pharisees wanted the Gentiles to first become a Jew, by circumcision, then they would be free to become a Christian—but only after first fulfilling the Jewish law. We need to ask ourselves: "Am I becoming a Pharisee today? Am I trusting in Christ for salvation, or am I trusting in my good deeds and legalistic ceremonial observances? Does God care more about an outward act of circumcision or an inward circumcision of the heart, not done with human hands?"

The passage goes on to say that this statement from the Pharisees brought Paul and Barnabas into sharp dispute and debate with them. Well it's no wonder! Paul and Barnabas had devoted their very lives to the Gentile ministry. For years they had seen Gentiles enjoying lives in Christ, and they were still seeing the Gentiles' lives transformed by the resurrection power of Jesus Christ. Let

Hunter safety course will run through October

There will be a Hunter Safety class at Telstar Regional High School in Bethel on Oct. 20, 21, 27 and 28, from 6 to 8:30 each evening, according to SAD #44 Adult and Community Education Director Cathy Newell.

This class is being offered in response to requests from those who missed the earlier session of the class, which is mandatory for young hunters and applicants for adult hunting licenses.

Lennie Shaw is the overall instructor for the class, which will again use guest presenters for special topics such as orienteering and compass work and first aid.

It is essential to be present at all sessions, and those who wish to enroll may register by calling SAD #44 Adult and Community Education, 824-2780.

me just say here, the greatest evidence of our "Living and Resurrected Lord" today is not how many Americans fill our pews, or how much money our churches take in through tithes and offerings. The greatest evidence that Jesus Christ lives today is the miracle of changed lives, new creations by simple faith in Jesus Christ.

Paul and Barnabas immediately saw the seriousness of this false teaching. If the Pharisees teaching of circumcision was accepted their work among the Gentiles, which God had so beautifully blessed, could now be ruined. Many new Gentile converts would renounce their faith rather than subject themselves to the law of the Jews. Then on the other hand, those that did submit to circumcision would thereby renounce Christ. This is exactly what Paul talks about in Galatians (5:2) when he states that if you receive circumcision, Christ will be of no benefit to you, rather you would then be obligated to keep the whole Law. We either trust in the Law for our salvation, which apparently no one has been able to keep, or we trust in Christ alone to redeem us through faith. If this one man-made law became a stipulation of salvation, who knows how many other rules and regulations would follow. To add one law would open the door for many. And if man could be saved by observing the Law and by simply being religious Christ would have been crucified for nothing. If man could be saved by obeying the Law God would have stopped there—but He didn't. God loved us so much He gave His only begotten Son. There can only be one stipulation unto salvation, and this faith in Christ's atoning death on the cross. He gave His life to atone for our sins so that we might live "in Him."

Thought for the Day
Isn't modern insurance terrific? In the 70s you had to beg your doctor to discharge you from the hospital. In the 80s you have to beg your doctor to admit you.

Calvary Congregational Church
Morning Hymn of Praise: "My Faith has Found a Resting Place"
Pastor Donald Grover's message "Living Letters" from II Co. 3:1-4.

Last Sunday supper, fellowship, singing and the words of the Lord. It was a pleasure having the folks and Pastor Churchill from the First Congregational Church as guests.

Appreciation to Pastor Omar T. and Mrs. Roberts from Richmond, Ind. who provided music. A call to Rev. Robert Atwood in Pennsylvania stating our dates were incorrect, so the missionary conference is cancelled until later. All were notified of this cancellation.

Pastor Grover's message for the evening was "Missions" and the part we all have in the Great Commission, Matthew 28:18-20.

Truly an evening of fellowship was enjoyed by all. The Roberts are visiting with the Robert Richardson family in town.

We Don't "DIG" Service Interruptions

Contel of Maine has 360 miles of buried cable along roadsides in 156 communities from Damariscotta to Fort Kent. Contractors and Public Works crews do a lot of digging along roadsides, and backhoes snagging and breaking our buried cable cause immediate service outages for customers in the surrounding area.

Anyone digging near Contel phone lines is required to notify us before they dig, but sometimes this procedure is overlooked. Sometimes we are not notified even if a cable is cut.

If you, as a customer, see construction equipment start digging nearby, and there's no one present wearing a Contel hardhat, please call Repair Service (toll free, 24 hrs. a day) at (207) 563-9931. If you witness a cable being cut, and your service is out, one of your neighbors should still have service, so ask if you can call from their phone.

Cut cable carried a price tag of over $75,000.00 in 1986, and all of it was unnecessary. Please help us avoid it in the future!

WALKING WITH JESUS CHRIST

Would you believe it? I do! Most people do not care for this column—so, might as well write it in a foreign language.

Aber viele, die das sind die ersten werden die letzten werden die ersten sein. Hev, that's right! Verse 20 of Matthew 19 agrees with Matt 20:16 which adds: Denn viele sind berufen, aber wenige sind auserwählt. Which in English is: For many are called, but few are chosen.

The man who does not want to hear the Gospel of Jesus Christ as we read in Jeremiah 6:10: "The Word of the Lord is unto them a reproach; they have no delight in them." They are joined by one third of God's created angels who are of the kingdom of Lucifer—Satan. However they know what the Bible says: "The demons also believe, and tremble." James 2:19

As for the "Born Again"—John 3:3—believers—the Christians. "But we are not of them who draw back unto perdition, but of them that believe to the saving of the soul." Hebrews 10:39

Some day every single person—saved and unsaved—will stand at the judgment seat of God—where a few (in the millions) will be escorted into Heaven where there is joy forever more.

Yet here and now—God loves us all— not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance." James 3:9

If you know you are lost—if you think you are a Christian—why not get right with God now—to live a fulfilled life with the ultimate security that Heaven is your home! Take your Bible and read: John 3:16—then Romans 3:23—1 Peter 2:24—and John 1:12.

Then take these steps:

1. Admit your spiritual need—"I am a sinner."
2. Repent and be willing to turn from your sin.
3. Believe that Jesus Christ died for you on the cross.
4. Receive through prayer, Jesus Christ into your heart and life.

Read Revelation 3:20 and Romans 10:13. What to pray:

Dear Lord Jesus:
I know I am a sinner. I believe you died for my sins. Right now, I turn from my sins and open the door of my heart and life. I receive you as my personal Lord and savior. Thank you for saving me. Amen.

If you prayed this prayer, please phone or write—we will help you in your decision—this is very important. If you need a Bible—we will give you one. And, as Billy Graham says—get into a Bible-believing church.

Yours in Christ

FRANK AND BOB LOWELL stand outside their store—Western Maine Supply—which serves the building and construction needs of tradespeople and home-craftspeople alike.

This is your Chamber of Commerce

Each week, this column will spotlight a different member of the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce. The purpose is to give some understanding about the various fields of endeavor of the Chamber members.

Western Maine Supply, in business since 1964 and located on Cross Street in Bethel, is this week's Chamber of Commerce member to be profiled. The company is owned by Robert Lowell and Frank Lowell Jr., sons of the founder, Frank Lowell Sr. Western Maine Supply deals in lumber and building materials, and has been in its present location since the late 1960s, moving there from its former location on Summer Street.

The company employs 15 people, with Ivory Currier Sr. having the distinction of being with the company for 20 years. The business is always changing, to keep up with changing taste and new product lines. The most recent addition is the upstairs display rooms which were completed last fall and which includes two complete bathroom displays and two kitchen displays. Also part of the expansion were three new offices.

Western Maine Supply is a longtime Chamber member and welcomes readers to stop in to discuss their building supply needs.
